Academy Newsletter Issue 5: AUTUMN EDITION 2006

Note from the Editor:

Dear everyone just to remind you if you have any news, channellings, poems, fund raising events, celebrations, prayers, angel stories etc in the coming months please let me know by an email or telephoning me. My contact details are below, many thanks, Nina x

I would just like to add how I have felt since starting the Therapeutic Channelling Practitioner Course a few weeks ago, I'm not sure why I just feel it might be relevant to people who read this.

After the initial attunement to the course I remember the days that followed were for me filled with peace, what I initially noticed was that colours seemed brighter, the grass was greener, the sky was more blue than normal the very air seemed sweeter and more alive. I could smell the earth and it's depth and the nutrients in the soil nurturing the plants - everything was more alive and energetic – including me. I literally felt as though I had expanded so much my fingertips could reach out and touch the mountain tops, I FELT more expanded I felt I could touch the top of the sky. I promise you I was NOT on any mind-altering drug, I didn't need to be and yet I also felt grounded and safe.

Since those first few days I have practiced doing and receiving the treatment that I was attuned to a few times and each time I do so I am filled with a sense of awe, peace and humbleness – I just feel honoured that I am given the facility and space to do this. I can honestly say I have truly felt in my heart and very being the energy of the Archangels – Archangel Michael, Archangel Uriel, Archangel Gabriel, Archangel Raphael and Archangel Metatron – and I have also felt it is a very ancient old form of healing and that I have done this many times before in past lives.

I don't know why I write this but I just feel I need to let people know about the beauty, simplicity and complete unconditional love of this treatment. I feel truly honoured just to have been a part of this yet again in this lifetime and I truly grateful for it.

Thanks for listening. Lots of love, light and peace. Nina xxxx

Dearest Brothers and Sisters

Re: Establishing our new Tau Community serving all light workers and carers

Channelled message from Lord Kutumi to Sean via our Sister Bev on 25th July 2006

‘Beloved Child of God, Your heart is full if questions for what the future may bring. Know you are one with God of the Universe forever holds you safe and connected at all times. This will never fail you despite the challenges, which will at times prevent you or attempt to prevent you remembering this. The work you have done to date is like a reservoir or love bank, a safety net if you like, which despite what you perceive as challenges will not be challenges at all, but will be a ‘walk in the park.’

You have truly honoured your Sacred Contract, Beloved One, the path you have chosen is a true one –know that the vision of the community came directly from us – the Brotherhood of the Elect –those Brothers with whom you walked the earth plane in Lifetimes before and who now serve you from the Spiritual Realms. You are truly blessed and supported. Those human souls that now surround and truly connect with you are those that have walked with you before, they were part of the long, lost Essenic Family. The scattered family is now reforming and in your reformation your strength and solidarity will be formidable. Even those souls that have challenged you recently, are in fact Essenes themselves and will be humbled in the face of what you achieve for their hearts will no longer be able to deny the truth of who they really are.

Your community of New Age Essenes will grow and expand and connect with other communities of the New Age. You are truly are coming Home. Your Brother in Light always, I reside forever in your heart. Lord Kutumi.

3. TEACHINGS OF SANANDA.

Each Newsletter will contain extracts from channelled teachings from Sananda (Jesus) given over 30 years ago to a mutual friend of ours called Beryl. They say it as it is with simplicity and clarity empowering each one of us who have been chosen by Sananda to embrace our Ascension Process and prepare ourselves for 21st December 2012. See enclosed attachment Nona.

Channelled Teachings from Sananda re: Faith Hope and Love

This is Sananda. There is so much I would wish to say to you and all mankind at this moment. My hopes are that times will change for the better. Gradually, imperceptibly I believe there is a change. Not necessarily all over the world, but I feel that there are pockets of people like your group who are increasing their spirituality and attempting to be better citizens – should I use the word Christians, and this is something which I am pleased to see. All of the Hierarchy are looking for this. There are large numbers of these groups like the Tau Community, not necessarily of the same faith, but all are expanding both their spirituality and their numbers to include others who are waiting in the wings, shall we say, on the verge of learning how they can improve their spirituality and be more evolved individuals. All of you are attempting to extend and expand your consciousness through meditation and prayer, but not necessarily all mankind have done so.

There are still areas—shall we call them grey areas where there is violence, where there is hypocrisy, and where that faith which I hope is increasing within you has been momentarily lost, but I hope in time that even these areas will gradually become golden areas so that their souls will be able to overcome what the lower self is doing at this time.

As you know through faith you can do all things. Faith can move mountains and if you truly believe – know that whatever you wish can be fulfilled if you have sufficient faith. It is these three things –faith, hope and charity on which I wish to speak. Faith is within each one of you latent and waiting to be used. Many of you have discovered this and know that if you turn to God and put your troubles in His hands that those troubles will be turned away from you and the problems will be solved gradually, miraculously if you put your faith in God. It is strange how man thinks that he is alone and that only he is able to solve problems which sometimes seem insurmountable, but if you or he will have true faith and just pass those problems to God, forgetting them and allowing Him solve them that all will be well. Again Hope lives eternal and we hope that man will see this and know that if he truly believes then the hope that lives within him will also be given credence and the hopes of all men will be fulfilled. If you are without hope what would life be? It would hardly be worth living if you had no hopes for future happiness. Know that God is always there to give you hope. Pray to Him and ask that your hopes will be fulfilled and truly they will be. If you have faith to believe they will –they truly will!

Just allow God to work in His own way. Sometimes it is unexpected in the way in which your hopes are fulfilled –through someone else perhaps who is being used by God for their purpose. Just allow Him into your hearts and into your lives and what a change will be wrought. Know that everything can be given to you from God, and if He gives you something use it and send forth love and gratitude, because everything that is given to you is from God and even though it may appear to be from someone else –your hopes have been granted.

Each one of you has different hopes and ideals and needs, but never fear that you expect too much from God. It is needs that are granted, not wants. If someone is truly needy, those needs will be supplied, but if someone is filled with greed and wants something that is unnecessary then that is not always given unto to you. It is purely what is necessary that is given – if you wish for something further then you yourself must supply it. Greed is a different thing from need and if you will weigh up whether your wants are greed you will realise that many things are not really required. It is those who truly are needy who have their requirements fulfilled by God. Those whose hopes may feel dashed at the time never despair –you know that He is there to help you at all times, so call on Him.

Faith, Hope and Charity –all are important –all involve love, and the greatest of these is charity. As I said be charitable to each other especially those closest to you. God bless and keep you all in His care. Sananda.

Channelled Teachings from Sananda re: Ascension

MEDITATION: The Christ Star

The Christ star -visualize a column of pure white light coming down from Heaven – a pure white light from the spiritual realms filling your room with the column of light and rooting into the centre of the Earth so that you are immersed and infilled with the light. The light of God – the light from Source –whatever you wish to call it, it is power for good and if all of you are filled with that light, every cell of your body filled with pure light then you will help yourself to raise your vibratory level higher as each day goes by. Filled with this light you can then help others to learn how to raise their consciousness. It is important that this is done each day so that the power of light is secured into the Earth by more and more who are on the spiritual path spreading this word to others.

As you do your meditations, or twice daily preferably, think of that light filling you with great power and spreading outwards into the whole of your aura. As you raise your mind towards that light going inwards and listening for that still small voice you will raise your vibratory level, and gradually you yourselves will be ready and aware of your higher self. You are bringing your higher self from above, from those charkas in the higher realms into your lower self so that your whole body is filled with light. It is a time of great importance this time of quiet each day, because your bodies need to be filled with power before they are ready to ascend into the 'Fifth Dimension.' You are bringing your body into alignment for this, preparing yourselves so that in a short space of time many of you will be ready to rise into that next dimension in order that you will learn to be able to teach others what it is that is about to occur. As you rise into that new dimension of being there will be many thousands rising with you attempting to be the vanguard of those who are ascending.

Message from James Twyman

When I received this email it struck a cord in me and even though many people many have already received this email for those who haven't I thought it might be useful – Love
Ninaxx (Editor)

Please Help Generation YES!

Beloved Friends, I believe that this is one of the most important emails I've ever sent to our Beloved Community list. There is a group on the planet today that needs our attention and support. If they have it, then they will possess everything they need to help move the mainstream mass-consciousness to the next level. They are there waiting for us already, and if we join our intent with theirs then anything is possible.

As you know, over the last several years we've put a great deal of focus on the new generation of masters, the Indigo Children. They indicate a new stage in human evolution, and it's important for us to understand then respond to their mission. Today, however, I want to bring your attention to a new group, just as important, the group that has allowed the Indigo Evolution to take root.

I'm calling this group "Generation YES!" For the most part they are between the ages of 25 and 32, and are responsible for a mass movement toward spiritual values that millions of young people are responding to. They are artists and visionaries, musicians and filmmakers, and their contributions can be seen everywhere we look.

Here's one example. Last week at the 10th Annual Earthdance celebration in California I had the privilege of meeting a young musician named India Arie (www.indiaarie.com). Many of you already know India as the 12-time Grammy nominated musician whose latest album went to number one on the Billboard charts. If you listen to her music you'll also realize that she is part of a new generation of artists using their talent to inspire the world. Her spirit is overwhelming and her message universal. India is just one example of an artist who is using her gifts to change the world. She is without question part of the Generation YES!

You may remember the name given to the generation immediately preceding this one. They were called "Generation X" because they lacked direction and inspiration. Not true of Generation YES! I believe that the current social and political climate has only enhanced their dedication for promoting peace and justice around the world. The universe is conspiring to pull us from the divisive energies of separation into unity and compassion for all beings.

The question then becomes, how does this information apply to you? Just as the Indigo Children needed our support to initiate their mission, so does Generation YES! need a bridge created between all generations to fulfill the mission we all share. These young men and women have been entrusted with linking and binding all the other groups into a cohesive unit whose influence cannot be stopped. We need each other, and together we will shift the mainstream consciousness in a new and vibrant direction.

These young people have their own unique way of accessing spiritual wisdom and truths, and it's often not through books or seminars. Music, dance and art are the mediums in which they thrive, and they have the ability, as with India Arie, to create the necessary bridge between our spiritual selves and the mainstream population. I believe that this is their role, one that is so important today. That is also why we must find news ways to support their creativity, and, of course, to realize the same within ourselves.

I'm committing myself to bringing awareness to Generation YES! Over the next few months I'll bring your attention to more artists and luminaries from this group who are changing the world, and offer way you can support them. Please send this message to your friends:

This is one of the first things you can do to help build awareness. Just as the Indigo Children benefited greatly from worldwide awareness and attention, so will Generation YES! They are already in positions of influence, and so our assistance will only accelerate their work. Let's spread the word. In Peace. James Twyman

SUFFER THE LITTLE CHILDREN

We can learn a lot from children after all we were them once they have a great sense of just being & are often full of joy which shows in their eyes & expression they are full of wonder wanting to explore their world with young eager hearts. Jesus said suffer the little children to come unto me because unless you become like them you will not enter the Kingdom i think this means a returning to a kind of innocence that we once had before we were made worldly by the pressures put on us by our modern society. Like children we should have trust in the love that surround us & put ourselves in the hands of God. I am convinced the more we do this the more peace we will receive which is our birthright anyway. We are children of light & love the world we have created in thought & word & deed proves we have thought otherwise of ourselves we have built a veil in front of us which sometimes stops us seeing Gods divine plan for us he has our best Interests at heart & will not desert us no matter how far we fall in to darkness.

His promise was that Man may turn his back on God but God will never turn his back on man, Heaven & Earth shall pass away but my love will never leave you often our problem is we think we are unworthy of his love for us. So we do not allow it to come through this is down to the way we are brought up deciding we are not good enough these are old ideas & should be dropped Once & for all as we are children of the all powerful God so we are worthy how can we get up close & Personal with God who is our best friend if we keep reinforcing these ideas because straight away we have Created an imaginary barrier between ourselves & God, thus blocking in ourselves his loving touch upon our hearts. We cannot change the world from the outside if we do not make the change inside ourselves. The Kingdom of heaven is within you. We can at best achieve only a temporary change sooner or later we have to accept we are all one on this Planet of ours & put our heads & hearts together for the common good .We have to agree to disagree & put aside our fear for divine love knows no fear. Differences don't have to mean divisions we can learn from each other and build a better world for the future God is waiting for us in the quietness of our soul for when we see our true selves then we see God for he is. Waiting to meet us in that quiet place – Be still & know that I am God - then we will know all & love all. And we will become spirits of living waters pouring blessings out on everyone & everything we meet. Filling each other with unending joy now & forever. Amen. Peter Christian

THE WAY AHEAD FOR 2007

I invite you to help us reach out to all therapists and light workers network as one spiritual family by helping the Tau Community of St Francis establish a unique celebration of our divine gifts through the launch of the HOLISTIC FESTIVALS in the UK and abroad. All we need is for our therapists to network with their contacts in their area and locate a church hall and organise a 1 day healing festival for say a group of 12-24 therapists to come and demonstrate their therapies for each other and benefiting the public in need in their area/s. The proceeds would then go to the Tau Charity. Details for organising the Festivals can be obtained from Carole who will advice and support you to run one of these events in your area say 2-3 times a year and network with fellow light workers and improve the working relationships between all light workers who are struggling at this time of great change.

Message from Sean for Winter Newsletter

Re: The Way Ahead for all who embrace the I AM PRESENCE

Regularly I have the privilege of meeting and speaking with 'great souls' in my work as a facilitator and mentor. I am aware that they have truly borne the marks of the Christ, their teacher, in their daily struggles to reach a place of safety and love. They often approach me for advice on how they can 'get back on track' and learn from their mistakes and self heal. It is so easy to dish out advice and offer support to one who is deeply traumatised by their individual life experiences. I guess the nursing role to reach out and rescue is always there wanting to stick a plaster of love and light and hope that this will alleviate the challenges and remove the pain. I know that this is not the answer. What we as light workers and teachers are encouraged to do is to firstly embrace the essence of the Divine within another and spend a quiet time in prayer inviting the realms and the Christ/Magdalene energies to guide our hearts sense what our actions should be to empower that soul 'self heal' and move forward in their faith journey.

It is a sad reflection that in our modern world so many beautiful light workers are so disillusioned and caught up in the dramas of their family, their friends and their clients. Instead of protecting themselves with the armour of Love and Light, they go straight into another drama where angels fear to tread! Yes, it is the easy way out to run in and rescue the light worker or family member who is desperately seeking a solution to their problems, conflicts and dramas. The only real way forward here is for us to reflect and not engage in their dramas but bring them to the light thanking God and the realms for answering our prayers on their behalf. This, I find, is the hardest if not the most challenging thing to do on their behalf. In my actions I am often misjudged when I use this tactic and unfairly accused as lacking empathy, compassion and even betraying my calling as a light worker! That been the case, I can only be guided by what my heart tells me to do in these circumstances and act accordingly by honouring my sacred contract as a light worker in service to Source.

I am also aware that there are many who say they have found all the answers to life's problems and the energies I work with are 'inferior' to their guides! Whilst I find this very challenging, my response must always be detachment and just send them love and light in the knowledge that one fine day the realms will empower this person/s to have clarity and hear what God is saying to their hearts and not their head centre. I can only repeat again that I truly believe that when we engage with our Head Centre we embrace EGO. When that happens, we nurture a negative energy that will rape us of our divinity as co creators of the Divine and leave us emotionally fractured, vulnerable and open to attack from dark energies. I recall here the words of my old Novice Master when I was a student monk many 'moons ago' that there are many wolves in sheep's clothing and to be on one's guard at all times. Yes, there are many false prophets trying to convince us that if we adopt this or that teaching we will be saved! I believe that the only person to connect with here is Jesus, The Divine Feminine and the realms and by allowing them connect with our hearts in our quiet times, then they will instruct us as to how they perceive us as beautiful souls. But sadly many ask me what is prayer and how to pray as they have grown up not knowing the meaning of divine connection! So, I am aware that as a light worker I too have a duty to share my life experiences and instead of telling another what to do is to meet them at their level and walk with them as a fellow light worker in love speaking my truth from a place of unconditional love and light.

I sense that because we are living in end times that we need to separate the wood from the chaff and bin everything and anything that no longer serves our highest good. Often this can infer re-visiting personal relationships with loved ones and taking one's power back and setting oneself free to learn ones life lessons and go upwards with a sense of knowing who we are and speaking our truth from a place of love. To actually do this can cost us dearly if we are not grounded and in a support group.

Light workers who work alone or who fail to accept that they need ongoing spiritual practical support from one's spiritual family, peers and fellow light workers eventually run the risk of loosing everything! I see it so often in my work with clients who have been therapists for many years and then hit 'rock bottom' and feel isolated, vulnerable and alone. We cannot afford to take chances like this especially in these latter days when we are been invited to step out of our 'comfort zones' and embrace the wounded and marginalized in our society. We have a duty to care for ourselves by remaining rooted in our spiritual beliefs and live out our calling as light workers who are a people of prayer and come together and support each other. As Jesus said to His disciples, 'when you offer a cup of cold water to one of these my children you do it for me.' We have a duty to care for each other too! But first we have to keep ourselves abreast of change and regularly update ourselves as a family of light workers by making an effort to join each other as brothers and sisters who have been individually called by the Master to support us as individuals and as a spiritual family of light workers. Jesus also said, 'God helps those who help themselves.' It is a sad reflection that in our modern world so many light workers have fallen into the trap that society – the academy owes them. I ask myself what? We have to distance ourselves from this 'nanny state of consciousness' and take back our power and exercise our God given gifts and be responsible for our own spiritual development. Or as they also say, 'You can bring a horse to the well but you cannot make it drink.' How true this is today for all of us who try to reach out in the name of love to support those who have distanced themselves from the 'I AM PRESENCE.' We live in the world but as light workers in service to the Light, we are encouraged by Jesus not to adopt its values. To achieve this we so need to be in a support group and meet say every two to four weeks for healing and support. I believe that I have only got from life what I was willing to put back into it. So we have a duty to care for our soul /our Higher Self that is calling us to switch off to the head and switch on the light of divine love in our heart-our teacher!

Mother Mary is daily connecting with us to join her in saving the world from destroying itself by nudging each of us to make time to pray and meditate. There was a saying in my childhood days back in Ireland that said, 'a family who pray together remain together as one.'

Please remember to support each other and wherever possible, do try to maintain the bonds of Friendship that have been lovingly nurtured since your joining the Academy. We are not an island and only as good and as effective as the love we share with each other. In the words of Jesus (Sananda), "Greater love has no man than to lay down his life for his friends."

Copy deadline for the Winter Edition is November 21st 2006. Please e-mail me your information and we will do all in our power to include it, space permitting.

Love and Light
