'If you would learn the secret of right relations I look only for the Divine in people and things and I leave the rest to God.'

Easter Greetings to All Light Bringers of Peace

As I pen my personal thoughts, my mind is now more focussed outside my home as there is gale like I have never heard before. Each time I hear a screeching sound, I literally jump up to see if the neighbouring trees have fallen onto our roof. What a week for inclement weather! I keep asking myself, 'what has angered the Angels of the Elements to behave so manically towards the earth? An interesting question, and one I now feel we all have to answer, don't you think so?

The Christian Festival of Holy Week conjures up many strange things for different people. For me, I have memories from my time spent as a monk of being utterly miserable, tearful, depressed and always feeling hungry. How sad was I! Looking back, I cannot imagine how I could be so naive as to accept such a negative dogma for my salvation. Again, we were assured by our religious leaders of that generation that by doing such heroic acts of self-denial that we would win God's favour and acceptance! Good Friday was always a time of real sadness for me as I would literally re-enact Jesus' crucifixion by shedding many tears of absolute sorrow for my sin and the sins of the world. Come Easter Sunday morning, I couldn't wait to get my hands on my secret stash of chocolates in my old shoebox that I had accumulated over the six weeks of Lent. That crazy pattern carried on into my adult life until I developed gallstones in the July of 2007. No wonder they removed over forty healthy stones in November of that same year. Ha!

Today, I celebrate Good Friday not with sadness but with a sense of absolute joy. On a purely personal level, I can connect with the Master Jesus and celebrate His victory over negativism by acknowledging that this wonderful day of days is in fact the 'Birthday of Love and Light for all Light Bringers.' My views may challenge some of the more traditional religious groups and that is fine by me as we are all accountable for our faith journey. In my case, it took me best part of fifty-five years to unshackle my soul from what I can only best describe as a cancerous belief system that was alien to what the real Jesus was teaching me. Thankfully, His persistence finally paid off when I relented and submitted my entire heart to His and accepted myself not as a heathen, or lapsed Catholic Christian, or one who dared to be different and set myself free of orthodoxy that kills the soul, but to live in a loving spiritual relationship with the Master Jesus and know pure joy as well as a spiritual life that leaves the soul totally enraptured in divine love. Are you in such a place? My advice to your heart is this, 'If you are not free, then why not?' 'Break free and breathe in the breath of God and just be!'

So, when the new sunrise appears on Easter morning, know that there will be rejoicing across the world for the man who challenged even the religious of His day, 'To return to their hearts and set their souls free to love and be loved by God.' Sadly, history tells us that when God spoke to his chosen ones, their hearts were closed to God as their egos had taken control of their destiny as children of truth. We are told by many who know such things, that when God invited Mother Mary to appear not to the leaders of the Church, but to peasant children. Take Lourdes for example. Here Mother Mary confided in an unknown young girl called Bernadette with whom she shared God's plan for 'Healing Waters' that would help others be free of disease, etc. But like all of God's messengers, Bernadette too, paid the penultimate price of scrutiny and rejection from God's appointed people for daring to be different by listening to Mother Mary and accepting her divine advice. Today, I know that God continues to speak to all of us in different ways using even the media to connect with our hearts. Yes, even the disposed in our society are chosen to speak God's word to our hearts. Sadly, it would now seem that society only hears from those messengers whom they perceive as been worthy who dress in fine suits and whose persona adds credibility to the message for it to be credible. Even in the Church, there is a religious snobbery that stifles the lives of those who need to hear but are denied only because they dare to be different. Jesus was most certainly different. How would He react today if He were to walk into a local Church, or boardroom of top executives? The mind boggles at what He would say and do.....

I sense that Jesus is working overtime right now and even with Mother Nature, I sense that they are indeed most unhappy by the way we, as Light Bringers are conducting our personal business and forsaking our spiritual integrity at the expense of loosing or worst still, compromising our core values as Light Bringers of Peace and Harmony to a world that is fast loosing the pulse on its very survival. I am hesitant to use the word 'Light Bringer' but that is what we have been called to be and with it comes specific responsibilities for our survival as well as that of the entire human race. When I was shown my spiritual pathway by Jesus many years ago, I was encouraged to aim to see the Master in everyone, especially those who challenged or rejected me! I was instructed by Jesus, 'that we are all accountable for the other and like it or not, we are our brother and sister's keepers from a spiritual perspective. ' The Master Jesus often reminded His followers that when the 'lean times arrived,' and they most certainly did, we are to shoulder each others cares as if they were our own. Is that how you are feeling right now, that you sense that others truly care about you as a human person? There was an old saying when I was growing up as a young lad that, 'The family who prayed and who ate together, stayed together.' How true! Yet, in our technological age, we have lost the innocence of that sense of family values. Who knows, there might be a trend one day for basic family values to return and when they do, there will be a sustainable peace in the minds and hearts of all.

My prayer for you all this Easter is that. 'The Spirit of God in all its richness and beauty will empower you to return to your heart and embrace the simplicity of living and speaking your divine truth as you see and feel it, as opposed to how others see it for you.' In the words of Saint Francis, where there is sadness may there be Joy for you this beautiful time of the year. Like the newborn lambs seen gambling in our local fields, may your hearts too enjoy a similar 'Spiritual Gambling' in the presence of Jesus in a God who loves you and accepts you as special and dearly loved.

Please pray that all may come to know a lasting peace in the coming months ahead. I welcome you to read an update from our dear friend Lotus Feet who shares with us an important message from God about how we can access 'sustainable peace.' The message given to Lotus Feet is 'Where is the Mercy and Love?'

Your beloved friend and spiritual brother always

Sean

Dear New World Servers,

Where is the Mercy and Love?

We wrote this today in response to more hatred on a forum.

"The spiritual fruit in Israel is blossoming like fields of the most beautiful roses and sunflowers. They gather frequently and sometimes in there

1,000's to work together for the peace of the whole of humanity. I have never witnessed anything like in any other country. They are willing to travel from one end of the country to another to work together for the good of all. Few people realise that only 8% of Israel is Jewish religious orthodox the rest are secular, agnostic, atheist etc. Other Israeli's include Arab Druze, Arab Muslims and Arab Christians. They dine together, work together, tour together, make music together, and create art and drama together, together they work for peace.

It is terribly sad that there is so much hatred in people's hearts and minds against these givers; all they ask for is peace yet none of you will allow them to have that peace. As Mahatma Gandhi said "We have to be the change we wish to see in the world. Love beyond measure is hard for humanity to integrate, compassion and mercy is even harder."

People are convinced that Israel will be destroyed due to prophecies that are misunderstood. In the prophecies of the Lord Jesus about the end times he said "28"Now learn this lesson from the fig tree: (The fig tree represents Israel.)As soon as its twigs get tender and its leaves come out, you know that summer is near. 29Even so, when you see these things happening, you know that it is near, right at the door. 30I tell you the truth, this generation will certainly not pass away until all these things have happened. 31Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will never pass away. Mark 13.

My experience of walking the land of Israel for five weeks is that Israel is indeed becoming tender just like the spiritual flowers that I found there.

Prophet Isaiah also predicted the same. "Their people, drained of power, are dismayed and put to shame. They are like plants in the field, like tender green shoots, like grass sprouting on the roof, scorched before it grows up. Isaiah 37:27

While I was in Israel I spoke to a humble boy and he said "Israel as an ancient history but it is a young nation and it is still growing up" His words emphasized the words of the Prophet Isaiah. After our return from the mission for God in 2006 we warned the light workers internationally about their condemnation and judgement of Israel. How if you judge and condemn others you also condemn yourselves. Whatever happens to Israel will happen to the rest of the world. It brings great sadness to my heart that those that speak of the light carry hatred for Israel in their hearts and minds. How much light do you have if you cannot integrate the golden rule and the law of cause and effect?

Angels defend the innocent and gentle hearted yet how many spiritual people defend their brothers and sisters of light in Israel? Those that remain silent are compliant to the suffering in the world. I have enjoyed the fruits of Nirvana due to intensive self healing and purification. However, the day came when God walked me to Israel to help them. A people that are shamed internationally, tender shoots being scorched by the hatred, lies and judgements of the world. How do you think God feels about any of his children being treated in such a way?

Spiritual people have been shameful in their response to prayers and help for Israel. Their judgement as been beyond measure; so dear ones it is certainly time to be the change that you wish to see in the world. When you are ready to take your light into every dark corner we will know that we are making some breakthroughs on this planet.

Yesterday a person on a forum listed all the things that Israel are doing to the Palestinians. Our analogy is how can you run a business when you are continuously fighting fires of violence from others? If you have ever run a business you will know that if you are fighting fires all the time normal business never gets attended too. The violence must stop and it will only stop if the people of the world stand up and say no to hatred and yes to peace. I can tell you this that the fascists, anti-Semites and communists are an unholy alliance and it is time for spiritual people to decide exactly where they stand.

With all my heart I ask you to find mercy and compassion in your hearts for a people that just wish, pray and work for the peace of all humanity.

God's prophet of universal social justice is calling you to step into a merciful heart and to take action to protect Israel from its aggressors because if you don't the world will be a lesser place for it.
