Sean's Personal Thoughts and Reflections on the meaning of Love and Light for 'today's Light Workers –channelled during his Quiet Times Feb'06

I take this opportunity to share with each one of you some thoughts and feedback that I sensed during my quiet times before The Divine Feminine in the presence of the Christ /Angelic energies in my periods of silent prayer during February '06. My thoughts are straight from the heart with no editing and I hope that they will have some meaning for you too, as they have had a profound impact on my heart leaving me deeply humbled and at peace.

We know that on a supernatural, or higher level, that when we were created by Source eons ago, we were personally invited by our Guardian Angel to revisit our 'Sacred Contract' and thereby re-evaluate it in the presence of Love and Light –the Divine Feminine /Christ Consciousness. If that is so, then why do we compromise our integrity by engaging with the dynamics of a fear-based society who have lost sight of their individual spiritual gifts? I ask myself over and over why do we drag ourselves down to that level to the point of loosing sight of our individuality and spiritual beliefs causing us great stress often resulting in loosing what we have achieved. We have no excuse really, now do we?

Living in a modern world with all its beauty, advanced technology and comfort living, we are encouraged to aim for 'early retirement' and just relax into a system of 'self indulgence'. My experience of nursing as an Occupational Health Nursing Officer in the mid 70's taught me a salutary lesson that retirement is not all it is cracked up to be. In the case of the foundry workers in my care, when they reached the statutory retirement age, we discovered that 90% were dead within the first 2 years of their leaving employment. Part of my role as a nurse advisor was to discover why this happened and identify a possible cause for their death so as to implement a positive solution for the rest of the workforce. I unfortunately discovered that when these men retired they vacated their work environment, which was for them their love and light surrounded by the comradeship of their workmates. Their partners too experience a degree of absolute bliss when their husbands were at work but as soon as they retired and entered the everyday routines, domestic bliss became an enforced series of negative mind-sets that triggered off a series of stress related illnesses that were to ultimately have a big part to play in their death. We conclude this section by saying that in essence the generation of ordinary working men and women from the mid 40's up until the mid 90's had a work ethic that generated a positive mind set that touched the core values of that generation and one's vocation to work as a valued part of a team became one's vacation in that it created a chain reaction of 'Love and Light' disguised as compassion, empathy, caring and acceptance. In our search for success, we have lost the art of communication with each other.

Over the past 15 years, I have noticed a dramatic change in society's values and I sense in my heart that one has lost their sense of personal identity- that uniqueness that make them special in the eyes of Source. One has just got to walk down one's local high street to see that a large proportion of young people are dressed almost the same, or that they are wearing a 'well known brand' of clothing /foot ware or accessories. Why can't we be bold enough and stand our ground and be who we truly are as that child of Love and Light and be proud of our individuality and uniqueness as a prayer partner of the Divine. I sense, too, that so many don't wish to stand out for fear of rejection or ridicule. The downside to all being the same is that it feeds a 'Bullying Culture' that destroys innocent lives. I know from personal experience that it does take a certain type of person who can withstand this peer pressure –they are the one's who have seen the divine and have experienced the touch of Source on their hearts in their quiet times. Are you one of them? I hope so!

During the early 90's my profession underwent a series of drastic changes that was to change the face of nursing for all time. After 38 years of being a nurse, I was becoming estranged by the new face of nursing and felt that 'I no longer belonged'. Florence Nightingale would be turning in her grave if she were alive today with the infections and lack of cleanliness that play an important part in damaging patient's health. We replaced human compassion with academia and the doors were opened for a new breed of 'super nurse'. I was one of those new generations but very quickly I began to realize that I had not the hardness of heart to be ruthless enough as a nurse manager to implement policies that were far removed from improving the quality of patient care on my wards. Like a lot of my fellow colleagues, the trap was set and many fell headlong into it because they lacked the courage to voice their concerns for fear of retribution and castigation from their beloved profession! Then came the white-collar managers with their industrial ideas of how to transform the NHS and over a period of time, out went the bedside manners and hands on basic care that is so lacking in modern medicine. Alternative therapies have filled the gap in a subtle way in that therapists have made a commitment to retrain and develop their skills that have indeed complemented this shortfall of compassionate carers, bringing what I believe is 'Love and Light' to the marginalized and the vulnerable living in the care sector as well as in our society.

Today, therapists are living under a 'dark cloud' where great difficulties are generated by a society that is seeking to assert 'negative values' embroiling you and me in 'officialdom and miles of red tape that is alien to our spiritual wellness and wholeness. This modern day dilemma is a destructive disease that eats away at the core values and beliefs of our sacredness as co creators of the Divine God/dess. It is a fear based negative mind-set that is fuelling the disease of 21st century man. I sense this disease has been slowly gaining momentum over the past 20 years and now we are living in a 'fear / litigation culture' where the professionals are prevented from exercising their duties of Love and Light for fear of reprisal. That destructible power has taken prisoners, innocent lives have been sacrificed on the alters of man's greed and inhumanity to one's fellow man. As a direct result of this adverse negative mind-set, we are coerced into paying homage to a deity or false God that does not promote Love and Light but FEAR. This 'New Age God' is the God of PAPER and each one of us has encountered it in our daily lives as well as in our professional life. Common sense has been compromised by 'red tape'. Political correctness is out of control and has become a burden for all light workers to shoulder. So, we are now challenged by the core values of 'Divine Love and Light' to take back our personal power and be responsible as key workers representing Source and speak out at the injustices that is eroding our safety net.

As therapists living in a modern world we have to be able to adapt to living in the world. That is not to say the we have to adopt it's values. We have a duty to care for our inner spiritual beliefs and core values regardless of what other voices say to us. If these voices don't resonate with our heart, then we must remove them immediately. Defeatist and we live in times when only the strong will survive and the weak will become disillusioned. I meet many therapists and others who crumble in the face of least opposition because they cannot cope with confrontation in their lives. The essence of Love and Light empowers us to ace our worst fears in the eye and get rid immediately. We have to face our demons head on and shower them with love and light.

I am of the belief that we live in a beautiful world. To think that everything was created as a love gift by God for us to enjoy and enrich our lives here on earth. So I ask myself where in history did we take the wrong turn to do the things we do in the name of God. It is deeply challenging to read and hear about man's history of violations to this sacred earth and its inhabitants. All is not lost despite what the annals of history reveals to us. We are now invited by the Four Spheres of Angelic Beings to take up the gauntlet and become 'Eco Warriors' and safeguard all that was given to man by the Divine as a 'love gift' to enhance our divine connectedness with Source, the I AM PRESENCE. The gift was not ours to abuse but a special gift that was shared with us on loan only basis. I hold the belief that as we mature in the spiritual life and become more attuned with the Christ /Angelic energies we are guided by that same Love and Light to speak out and challenge society to amend anything that no longer safeguards the long term survival of our sacred planet. Yes, we are commissioned by Love and Light to seek redress through prayer and instead of sitting comfortable and doing nothing we have to rise up albeit as a silent army initially. There is help all around us from the Angelic Messengers of Source who inspire us daily in our periods of quiet reflection and prayer to listen to them –to our heart and avoid confrontation with the ego. We can and we will win this battle as Jesus said to his followers 2000 years ago that our battles are not just ours –they are His too! So, we learn through Love and Light to hand over what cripples us and trust implicitly in the Divine to act for us and through us to make change possible when all may seem a daunting task! We have the power within our divine nature to achieve change. Everything is possible for those of us who trust in the divine to act.

So where does this now leave us as Light Workers of integrity? We are challenged to revisit all that society throws at us. We are equally challenged to reject materials and information that no longer serve our highest good or us. If what we hear from well known speakers or read something in this newsletter or other publicized books /articles that challenges us –my advice to you is simply this, ‘if it does not resonate with your heart, your teacher, then bin it’. We are invited by Source with the assistance of the Angelic Realms to adopt a simple rule of life that will safeguard us during these latter days when the world will turn in on itself and man will seek to undervalue our ministry and life’s work as the New Illuminaries working in divine partnership with the Divine Feminine, the Christ and the Four Spheres of Angelic Beings of light. In the words of St Frances, we are to take heart and where there is hate, we are to show love. Where there is discord or disharmony, we are empowered to bring Love and Light. We are commissioned by our belief and training as therapists of the Academy to be still in the presence of Source and instead of babbling, arguing even complaining about this and that issue, we are to remain silent and let the dynamics of Love and Light touch us deep within our Heart –our Heart Chakra and to just be, releasing everything back to Source. I believe that in every situation good always triumphs over adversity. I hold the belief that even in the management of my disability, when I hand it over to the realms, they use it as their ability to touch lives. So nothing ventured –nothing gained. All that is asked of you and me is that we trust and let go and just be!

My philosophy is and will always remain a challenge to some of you. It is my belief that I am not called to be a great speaker, writer or facilitator. No! The messengers of ALL THAT IS to simply be myself and just remain focused on the face of God; Source; The Divine Feminine; Christ and all that represents their core values invite me. For many years I allowed religion dominate my life and I gave power to the negative emotions and superstitions that slowly eroded my sacred gifts leaving me isolated from my God. It was not God /Source who abandoned Sean –rather it was Sean’s negativity and unresolved conflicts that abandoned Love and Light. Early last year, I was empowered by my Franciscan Spirituality and the love of nature along with the Tree Devas in the presence of the Four Spheres of Angles to take back my power and send only ‘Love and Light’ back to my religious family and the Catholic Church that instructed me so well. I am now free to follow my heart and there I know the Divine lives, moves and breathes empowering me to be Sean and stop trying to be what I am most certainly not. Those years of living as the monk in servile service have long since gone. The God I now embrace is not one of fear but unconditional, selfless love. My role model is the ‘Barefoot Galilean’ whose philosophy and teachings remain rooted in our Essenic way of life connecting us all with Source via the angelic realms Morning, Noon and Evening.

The angelic realms have empowered me to be responsible for my own life - not yours - not anyone else’s - but my own. The rescuing years have been spiritually aborted. In my work as a facilitator of the Christ /Angelic healing energies I meet many beautiful brothers and sisters just like you. I have a responsibility to meet them where they are at in their journey and be the beating heart of Source by empowering them attain their own self worth and reclaim their dignity and divinity as a valued child of Love and Light. I am so humbled when I meet fellow workers and delegates who are appreciative of what the realms have done for them and their letters and e-mails confirm that they too have seen the face of Love and Light shine into their lives and touch their heart with the essence of the Divine. On the other side of the coin, I meet others who are hungry for that same truth and who desperately seek to have what you and I have but their problem is that they prefer to wallow in victim hood and remain stuck in their brokenness. You can help them too by empowering them to realize that when a situation becomes too painful or difficult when they give it power. When they hear that, they walk away and the sadness in their eyes says it all. They have imprisoned themselves in their shadows and in their reluctance to embrace their inner beauty through the eyes of selfless love, they choose to walk a different path –that’s their journey and we as light workers respect that but we can also work behind the scenes by sending them Love and Light in our prayer times each day. You and I already know that whatever befalls us in our life’s journey has already been agreed and sanctioned by us before the Realms. We agreed to everything and it was our individual choices that led us to where we are at today because we agreed to learn our life lessons so that we can Ascend and not have to return to re-learn those painful experiences again!

As I have said before and will say it again and again and yet again, when we are at the cross roads of our life and all is not well for us, there IS a way out and there is a way forward for each one of us. So where do we go to? Whom do we approach during those times of disquiet? Yes, we go heavenwards and connect with our God/dess- the One Who Is-Who Was –And who will COME to Love US in our shadows as well as in the sunshine. It only takes one sentence, ‘Here I am Lord, and I come to be with you’. Or do we say, not tonight Josephine, maybe tomorrow.

As a child of God, we have a direct phone line to the Divine. It is up to us to choose whether we need to reconnect with the spiritual switchboard and receive, or carry on where we are at in our turmoil. The choices that you and I are given each and every day are so simple. In that choice we are invited to reconnect and receive! I have always believed that when we exercise our free will to choose whether we go it with Love and Light or whether we go it alone, Source will never abandon or forsake us in our difficulties. I know from my personal faith journey that during the times when I was out of control because of mania, my God sent a host of angels to surround and protect me from harm. Take the ‘Footprints in the sand’. You and I know that the same footprints were not ours but those of the Divine Father Mother God carrying us through it all until we reached that place of safety.

I know that we are living in great times and it will be in these latter days that you and I will ‘BEHOLD – ENFOLD –HOLD- LISTEN’ to that still voice in our hearts inviting us to be the beating heart of the Divine Feminine with Christ, Mary Magdalene and the Four Spheres of Angelic beings of Love and Light. When we were attuned to the Christ/Angelic energies we were commissioned by Christ and the Divine Feminine to touch our own life first before embarking on our ministry of empowering others to self heal. The Divine Mother instructs us as her children to take a proactive step, or leap of faith by engaging with her on a daily basis and seeking the healing energies that we each desperately need to safeguard and protect us from negative thought patterns and attacks from dark entities that are alive and seeking to dissuade us from following our heart –our teacher. When we re-enter our head /our ego, there we will find a powerful series of destructive thought patterns that will disembowel you and me from fulfilling our sacred contract. The choice is ours whether we wish to remain permanently fixed in the head /ego center or whether we should get back to our roots and remain in our heart center –Christ Consciousness.

For many of us who celebrate the Easter Festival, it is a celebration not just for Christians but also for all Light Workers who work with the healing energies of the Christ, our Ascended Master. The promise of Easter tells me that despite all the painful memories that have inadvertently blocked me in my progressing forward during my periods of the ‘Dark Night of the Soul’ in the mid 90’s, I know that Good Friday always touches my soul to reflect on the key words that were given to me by Christ in 1994, that I will be broken so that I will be made whole again and be a people set apart to sing the praises of God. So to be used as one of the ‘New Illuminaries’ Christ invites each one of us to stand back and revisit our commitment to work in service as a light worker of integrity. This outpouring of Christ’s perfect love for us is achieved only when we ‘switch off to the head /the ego’ and ‘switch on the lights of divine love’ in our heart. Once the divine spark has been lit, then we become a beacon of Christ healing Love and Light for all to see, feel, embrace and touch. We are indeed blessed to be modern day Essenes. I sensed it then and I accept it now 100% that each of us have all worked together with the Master when we lived as Essenes many centuries ago. I also believe that in light of what is expected in the ‘latter days’ to test the minds and hearts of all God’s people living among us we all agreed to return into the 21st century and work together as one family who cares for all of God’s people regardless of religion, creed, class, color or disability. We are the modern day disciples that Christ has chosen to impart His healing Love and Light to those who seek His love despite the noises that sometimes prevents one from hearing that still voice in silence and quiet prayer.

You and I are that people set apart in a modern, chaotic world that has slowly compromised its beliefs and become spiritually impoverished by adhering to other false ideologies that have indeed caused entrapment, stifling their spiritual growth and spiritual starvation. In the words of Mother Mary to her children in Bail in November 2005, the Archangel Gabriel and the Divine Mother reopened the vortex to allow the healing energies of Source flood this sacred land with the spiritual blessings that you and I seek to help us remain focused and be that people of prayer. As a people of prayer, we are commissioned not to engage in the dramas unfolding before us but to remain at peace, calm, joined at her Mother’s hip and send pure Love and Light out to the world. We may never see the results of our endeavors, but we know that when we relinquish everything that no longer serves our 'Highest Good/self' we are making a profound statement to Divine Love and Light. In my heart I am saying 'Here I am, use me to be your hands and feet'.

So, we are invited not just to be great and exceptional therapists. I believe unquestionably that our main mission or mandate from The Divine Feminine is that we are individually called to be a 'people set apart' that sing the Divine praises of Source each and every day by working in partnership with the Four Spheres of Angelic beings of light. We are chosen not because we are saints but because we are human and in our humanity we remain joyful, fun loving and radiate laughter, humor, as well as tears and that we can be oneself despite everything else!

Prayer is that elixir that fuels our heart to be receptive to the needs of those who are drawn to us and who were guided by the messengers of Source to seek us out. Prayer IS AS ESSENTIAL AS THE AIR THAT WE BREATHE IN TO SURVIVE. We don't have to advertise our wares as therapists in order to gain rightful employment or clients. We have the perfect PR machine in heaven. The Archangels, all healing angels and all spirits who represent the light will assist us if we a) respectfully ask their assistance; b) manifest our abundance as light workers of integrity and c) walk in our truth by speaking our truth to those whom we meet in our every day lives.

In accessing Love and Light from Source, you and I are also invited as light workers to embrace each other, the therapists and students of the academy in love. By sharing and demonstrating in that love, you are in turn, embracing and supporting the Divine within each other. When I desperately needed the support of my nurse colleagues during my period of mental illness way back in the mid 90's, there was none to be found. So, I decided that one day, that I would make it my goal to do something practical and turn that negative period and create a positive solution that would touch lives one day. In my meditation, I often picture Jesus alone in the Garden of Gethsemane alone struggling with his demons. When He cried out for the support of his brothers, in their humanity they fell fast asleep due to tiredness. Is that where you and I are at today? The word 'thank you' is so important and we fail many times to use it. The angels use our 'Thank You' as their currency on our behalf before Source. When they invest in us, I sense they respectfully wait on us to initiate our gratitude. The story of the ten lepers that were healed by Jesus –when he looked around and noticed that only one leper had returned to say thank you, He asked 'where are the other nine'? Could we learn from all that has happened in our lives and in the stories told to us and take a leaf out of the disciple's book and 'stay awake' to the promptings of spirit and care for each other in a tangible yet supportive way. The academy is not just a center of education and training. I hope and pray that the academy is about promoting a spiritual family who care for each and one that instills that sense of belonging until that time when we Ascend. Or do we represent one of the nine lepers and having received everything, go on our journey forgetting all that the Master had taught us?

Wishing you a Blessed Easter and may the forthcoming season of Spring enrich your soul with all the blessings that you so ardently seek and desire at this time of your faith journey. Please remember Rob and I in your daily prayers.

YOU ARE A CHILD OF THE UNIVERSE

by Robert Elias Najemy

You are a child of the universe.
All the Earth is your home.
You are a part of God.
You are the divine essence,
living temporarily in this body.
You are here to bring paradise to Earth.
You have within you the Faith
which solves all problems.
You have the unconditional Love
which opens all hearts.
You have the inner Peace
which will soothe all wounds.
You have the highest Truth,
which will light the way for all.
You have inner Joy,
which lightens all hearts.
All, whom you see, are your family.
They, too, are children of universe.
Live in love with them,
care for them and help them.
And when you have need,
Do not fear to ask their help.
Do not forget who you are.
Stand Straight and Smile.
Let your Light Shine.
~~As we share, we grow~~

.....
A concluding reflection taken from Sean's 'The Light Worker's Way', a daily prayer tool for Therapists connecting with the Divine Mother Father God morning and evening each day.

FRIENDSHIP

*A friend is like a tower strong;
A friend is like the joyous song that helps us on our way.*

*When golden ties of friendship bind the heart to heart,
The mind to mind, how fortunate are we!*

*For friendship is a noble thing;
It soars past death on angel's wings into eternity.*

*God blesses friendship's holy bond both here and in the great beyond;
A benefit unpriced.*

*Then may we know that a wondrous joy,
That precious ore without alloy;
A friendship based on Christ.*

A concluding reflection taken from Sean's 'The Light Worker's Way'

So, today, celebrate your divinity and take back your power as that special friend and child of Source /the God/dess who formed you in your mother's womb and reclaim that special bond and nurture it each and every waking moment with Love and Light showering the universe and undoing the ancient prophecies that have been predicted by the Prophets.

To all our Mothers we greet thee in the name of Love and Light and thank the Father Mother God for your journey and sharing with us your gifts. On behalf of all our therapists and students, we wish you a Blessed Mothering Sunday on 26th March.
