

Teachings From the Masters – 10

This is Sananda, I give you my greetings this day and hope that all of you are accepting my words as the truth –feeling filled with light from your meditations. I know that some of these new thoughts, which are being given, may seem strange to you. As I have said before just read them and either accept or reject them, but that seed thought is now in your minds and you are also awakening to the fact that you are all workers for the light and have been for so long. You have forgotten what you are capable of and it is necessary to awaken each one of you to your capabilities. They may be latent but they are there within you and in time you will learn to use them – in the meantime just allow yourselves time and continue with your lifestyle as it is at present.

There is so much, which will happen in the future, which is great news and something to be looked forward to. There is no dread involved – just love and light and perfection. Think of the world being a place filled with peace and with people who will tolerate and love one another for what they are. There will be no one seeking for power, wishing for power to dominate others. All of you will be as one – equals- as you truly are and as God thinks of you – you are all equal in his sight. Remember this and know that you are all worthy of His love. His plan for you is unfolding like a flower – it is something which perhaps works slower than you might expect, but slowly and relentlessly everything will unfold as it should. Allow God to work in his own way –it may not be in the way you would expect, but He has His plans for the Earth and all that dwell upon it and He is working His plan out through us –through the Masters, the Angelic Hierarchy under Michael and Ashtar and all who work with him. We have been working together for so long as I have said previously and the plan is working itself out.

I have said that there will be three waves in this Ascension Plan and the first wave will be ascending quite soon. There is a new energy abroad which will help you and this will be working upon you without your knowledge, and gradually imperceptibly you will begin to accept and realise that these changes are all for the better. The Earth herself has been changing as you are aware and these floods and earthquakes and changes within the Earth's structure are gradually becoming more apparent and more frequent as the years roll by. The Earth herself rising gradually into the fifth dimension as you yourselves will be, so that she will join with those other planets in the solar system and elsewhere within the universe around which are also on that level of being. You are aware that there is so much more than you can see in the heavens above and beyond, because the universe is gradually spreading, constantly evolving and never ending –rather like your consciousness rising and expanding, so everything changes gradually –growing and evolving as it should.

Nothing can remain static –there is always change and this is good. Just think of nature itself – the seasons come and go and change happens all the time. There is inner growth, which you cannot see occurring in the winter –rather like your inner life, which is expanding and growing as your soul evolves. Over each incarnation it grows and expands and learns so much, and that inner life, which is becoming more apparent and extending into your daily existence during your meditations. All this is part of the growth of mankind into a new spirituality, which has been lost and now is found within each one of you and hopefully within many more as they slowly awaken and become aware that they are beings of light.

What is necessary at this time is for you to attempt to reach upwards always trying to extend your capability of listening with that inner ear to that still small voice which will speak to you and guide you on your way. Continue with your visualisations and improve on them if you can so that your consciousness will expand even further. Perhaps together you can help one another –you and your families or friends –in groups, so that you can experience the power gathering within the group – that energy which is being poured down with the light into you and into the Earth so that life will become easier for each one of you at this time. You are making history because mankind has never before been so close to such a wondrous new horizon. It is a time of awakening. It is a time for new frontiers to be broken through and extended. There is a dam burst of light pouring down to give you new hope, new life and new joy, because that is what you will receive once you have crossed that threshold into the fifth dimension. It is just like stepping across a threshold into light and into a wonderful new world in which you can do so much more than you have done in your lives – than any man has ever done apart from those who are already in the fifth dimension and above like myself and the other Masters – I am speaking of mankind in general.

It is what God has planned for mankind, He gave you free choice and this is something, which those on other planets have not had. The Angelic Hierarchy does not have free will – they live to serve God and they are beings of light, which have always served God and mankind over the aeons, but I am just trying to explain to you that you have had free will and now you are being given a greater freedom of body, mind and soul. You have experienced in your visualisations that freedom of the spirit, which you are only aware of whilst you are asleep in dreams, but from now onwards you will have that capability. All this has been planned for so long, and even though most of you are beginning to accept this truth which you have been awakened to now, it has been ‘on the cards’ shall we say, for such a long time that we are hoping that more people will be told of this plan in time, without too much delay, because within the next five years all of you will have ascended. That is, apart from those as we have said before who will never accept their spirituality or the words that I have been speaking. I know that this does not concern anyone that you are aware of. It is only those of evil intent and violence that will be swept aside. The rest of you will be transferred to this new Ascension.

The Devic Kingdom is also working with us and are ready to help you in their own way. All of us are joining together to raise nature and everything around you onto that higher dimension. You will find that everything will be perfectly normal and your bodies will adjust accordingly, quite simply and easily. Do not concern yourselves too much with thinking you must collect food and water – provisions of all kinds for great lengths of time. There should be no panic or panic buying. There is no need for this because your bodies will adjust as I have said, and you needs will be less. As the Earth changes occur you will be on that dimension of light so all will be well and when you have returned which will be quite quickly, because the Earth changes are happening gradually, you will find that everything will adjust and be as you would wish it to be with no problems, no flooding, no earthquakes –everything will be protected including your homes. All will be well. All of you will be in the right place at the right time, and your loved ones will be protected. As I have said no harm will become any of you and you have so much to look forward to –so much peace and happiness and goodwill will abound upon the Earth and life will be as it should be.

I hope that all of you will accept these words because in time to come your lives will be changed – for instance, you will find that you can travel in ways that you have only dreamt about previously. There will be travel between the planets also in ways that will be inconceivable to you at present. The spacecraft that have been travelling from your planet Earth to various points within the solar system will not be required in the future. You will find that the vehicle of light, which will be available to you, will be faster, simpler, and travel without the fuel that has been required in the past. You will understand of what I am talking when the time comes and you will recognise that all the plans that have been laid for space vehicles for the future will not be needed. There will be a simplicity of life, which you will be happy and willing to accept. There will be much time to enjoy with your families, and time to visit others who live at great distances but the travel will be in the space of a few minutes instead of many hours.

The changes will be wrought within these next few years, and as a result your lives will be lived in a different way from how you live at present – it will be in a way, which you will find great relief from the pressures, which at present abound in the world. There will be no stress, and disease will be a thing of the past. All will be well.

God bless and keep you all.

Sananda.
